[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JANUARY 27.

Rumor of the Fall of Paris.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26—9 P. M.—A report was in circulation on the streets this afternoon of the capitulation of Paris, to which was added the reinstatement of Louis Napoleon on the French throne. No such news has been received here or in New York. The report was unquestionably manufactured here for speculative purposes.

The Rumor in London.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—There is tremendous excitement here at the West End over a rumored treaty and the capitulation of Paris. Many doubt the truth of the report, and this disbelief is increased by a rumor that Favre is actually on the way to London to attend the Conference. At the Foreign Office, and at the Prussian Embassy, nothing was known of the capitulation.

Discussion of Terms of Peace.

VERSAILLES, Jan. 24.—Favre is reported to be discussing the terms of capitulation with Bismarck. The German demands are said to be as follows: The forts to be garrisoned by German regulars, and the Garden Mobile to be sent to Germany; the province of Champagne to be held as a pledge for the payment of war expenses; Alsace and Lorraine to be yielded to Germany; Paris to receive no garrison for the protection of the city, which is to be confided to the National Guard, who will not be disarmed. The Germans will then negotiate terms of peace, and France will be left to reconstruct her own government. These propositions are combatted as too severe. It is unknown at this hour what abatement may take place.

Gambetta Favre and Bismarck.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 25.—Gambetta is here, conferring with the French and Italian Ministers.

At an interview of Favre with Bismarck yesterday, the latter insisted that the surrender should be signed by the whole Provisional Government. Favre replied that it would be impossible to bind the Bordeaux Government. Bismarck then said: "If the Republic rejects my terms, and the Empire accepts, you must choose between acceptance and restoration." Favre has departed for London.

Military Operations in the North.

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—A provincial correspondent states that military operations in the north of France will be extended in an important degree, in connection with the movement of the army under the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg.

CALIFORNIA.

The Dion-Deery Billiard Match.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—The result of the Dion-Deery billiard match last night, surprised everybody. As the game progressed, toward the close, Deery, who had shown much nervousness and irritability at first, appeared to grow cool, while Dion, who started out cool and confident, grew proportionately excited and made many bad misses, and getting the balls frozen repeatedly. On the 120th inning, Dion ran 41, when the balls froze. On the 123d inning, Deery scored 57, leaving him only 3 to go to count 500, and thus beat Dion. The latter then played, scoring 2, when Deery made three fine shots, and the game was called—Deery, 500; Dion, 479—amidst the wildest excitement. Deery shook hands with Dion, and was immediately borne out of the hall by his enthusiastic friends.

Innings—Deery, 134; Dion, 123. Deery's average, 3 98-100; Dion's average, 3 80-100. Largest runs—Deery, 15, 13, 15, 12, 14, 14, 20, 12, 15, 17, 12, 32, 14, 18, 57. Dion, 42, 36, 19, 25, 14, 23, 15, 41, 51. Duration of game, four hours and thirty-five minutes.

The Eastern Question.

THE SECRET TREATY OF TILSIT, JUNE 25, 1807.

The London Times of the 20th ult. publishes the following from a correspondent:

In these days of "secret treaties" it may be of interest to the public to see the terms of the secret treaty of Tilsit, more especially as, read by the light of subsequent history and the present crisis in the Eastern Question, it shows how persistent has been the policy of Russia in the direction of Turkey, and that the conquest of the Caucasus and the aggressive action in Central Asia were planned more than half a century ago. There perhaps can be no better proof of the truth of the articles of the treaty than that some of them were long since carried into effect, while others have come about by the march of events, without being assisted intentionally by those who planned them. At the commencement of this century this treaty was published in the Courier newspaper, and I found them in a collection of printed records and documents of that epoch in a gentleman's library:

ARTICLE I. Russia to take possession of Turkey in Europe and to pursue her conquests in Asia as far as she thinks proper.

Since 1807 Russia has twice tried to carry the article into effect, in el armiso, and now may be said to have again commenced her attack.

ART. 2. The dynasty of Bourbon in Spain and of Braganza in Portugal shall cease to exist; a prince of the Emperor Napoleon's family shall be invested with the crowns of those families.

The Bourbon dynasty has fallen by the will of the people.

ART. 3. The temporal power of the Pope to pass, and Rome and her dependencies to be annexed to the kingdom of Italy.

Brought about through the instrumentality of the Napoleonic dynasty.

ART. 4. Russia agrees to assist France with her marine for the conquest of Gibraltar.

ART. 5. The towns in Africa, such as Tunis, Algiers, etc., to be taken by the French, and at a general peace all conquests which might have been made by the French in Africa during the war to be given as indemnities to the kingdoms of Sardinia and Italy.

Algiers annexed to France.

ART. 6. Malta to be occupied by the French, and no peace ever to be made with England until it be ceded to France.

ART. 7. Egypt also to be occupied by the French.

Done by the Suez Canal.

ART. 8. Vessels of the following Powers alone to be allowed to navigate the Mediterranean: France, Russia, Spain, Italy. All others to be excluded.

ART. 9. Denmark to be indemnified in the north of Germany and by the Hanse Towns, provided she consents to give up her fleet to France.

ART. 10. Their Majesties of Russia and France will endeavor to come to some arrangement that no Power shall in future be permitted to send merchant ships to sea unless they have a certain number of ships of war.

KOWRAKIN.
C. M. TALLEYRAND,
Prince of Benosento.
TILSIT, 7th July (25th June), 1807.

Regarding Count Bismarck's dukedom the Berlin correspondent of the London Daily News writes: "The King wishes him to accept the title of Duke of Strasbourg or even of Lorraine, (!) while Bismarck insists upon being called simply Count Bismarck. I am unable to learn how far this rumor is founded upon truth. Should it be true that such a title is in store for the German Cæsar, it would be highly probable that he himself objects to any territorial appendix for it would have no meaning in German. In Germany such a territorial title indicates either property or sovereignty that justifies it; without such justification it would be somewhat ludicrous. A Duke of Magenta or a Duke of Palikao are unpalatable to the German view of territorial titles."

"Father, won't you buy me a fish-pole?" said a pious boy. "You know the Bible says 'Spare the rod and spoil the child.'"

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Dispatch from Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—Since the 23d French pickets on the frontier are preventing egress and imprisoning strangers from Villars. The German patrols extend to Abbievilliers.

The Germans stormed Garoche, repulsing the French.

News via London.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The following is unofficial, but believed to be trustworthy:

The Germans will insist on the unconditional surrender of Paris, together with all the forts and defences.

The Times' story of a collision between Bismarck and Napoleon and the Empress Eugenie is unfounded.

It is said that the Emperor of Germany has written his from that the capitulation of Paris is imminent, and he expects a speedy return to Berlin.

Cherbourg is crowded with German ships.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Guizot writes Gladstone on the conflict between France and Prussia, urging that England's protest in favor of peace would not be in vain.

The Telegraph reports Garibaldi surrounded near Dijon.

A fine of 1,000,000 francs is imposed on Nancy and surrounding districts, on account of the destruction of a bridge near Toul. If unpaid, the military will adopt stringent measures.

The News says Favre returned to Paris on Wednesday.

The bombardment still continues.

From Bordeaux.

BORDEAUX, Jan. 26.—Gambetta arrived here to-day. The French have occupied Alencon. The Germans threaten Augers. The Prussians threaten the neighborhood of Dijon, but considerable of a German force is hurrying eastward. Since the recent engagements Bourbaki has reconvened effectually to protect the French left, and is retreating against the advancing enemy.

Other Military News.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Advices from Lille state that the Prussians are retreating in the direction of Somme. They abandoned the siege of Cambria and other fortresses in the department of the North. On Monday their headquarters were at Creveresse. Austria intends moving in the conference for an exclusive jurisdiction on the Danube.

A Herald special from Berlin, dated 26th, says the report of the arrival of Favre at Versailles, and that he was received to day, created great excitement, although at present not officially confirmed. The general belief is that the rumors of negotiations looking towards capitulation are true. Favre's presence at Versailles is undoubted, but some believe he may have gone there in hopes of obtaining a military pass to the London Conference.

The fact is officially known here that there is only five days rations in Paris from to-day.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Paris official accounts the French strength at the sorties on the 19th [illegible] 100,000.

The Prussians have destroyed the railroad bridge on Cher, near Tours.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Income Tax Abolished.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—In the Senate to-day Buckingham, spoke of practical defects in the Income Tax law, and its imperfect enforcement. Cole opposed tax on incomes as distinct from taxes on salaries and corporation's profits, and moving the former most objectionable. Its collection for years after ceasing income upon which it was [illegible] frequently at a time when persons [illegible] interest instead of acquiring [illegible] $2,000 exemption.

[illegible] argued against the [illegible] revenue system as unjust and [illegible] operations. After further discussion, [illegible] successful motion of Harlan to go into [illegible] session, the Senate passed the bill for repeal, [illegible] vote of 26 yeas to 25 nays.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—A joint resolution appointing Gen. W. T. Sherman a regent of the Smithsonian Institute, vice Gen. De Hoffeld, resigned, was passed.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Indian appropriation bill. After an agreement to some amendments it passed.

Sargent asked leave to offer a resolution requesting the President to inform the House whether the Governor of California has since July 4th, 1868, asked military aid, for the purpose of keeping peace at elections in that State, and transmit copies of correspondence.

Baron Gerolt, Prussian Minister, denies that there is any truth in the report circulated during the San Domingo debate in the Senate, that Prussia is anxious to secure a foothold in the West Indies by purchasing an island there. Prussia is not desirous to obtain territory which would be so open to attack in case she should become involved in another foreign war.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—It is not raining this evening, but cloudy and wind from the south with every indication of rain.

There is no vessels going out or coming in, owing to dense fog.

The Woman's Suffrage Convention is dragging its existence out. Beyond so adding an J lecturing the press, and getting off a few windy resolutions and declaratory speeches, one of which at least was too indecent for publication, nothing has been done.

The Excelsior Shingle Manufacturing Company incorporated to-day. Object, to manufacture and sell Hecteior shingles. Capital, $100,000.

The examination of the case of Officer McLaughlin, charged with aiding two parties here to come from the Internal Revenue office to black mail Chinese merchants, could not be concluded to-day, as the revenue officers, real or pretended, have not been identified. It was evident that the Chinamen examined to-day were afraid to tell all they knew about the matter. It is supposed that threats have been made against them by somebody. It is known that money in one case has been offered to be returned in case matters were hushed up.

Very small seams of bituminous coal, which burns freely, have been found on the Peninsula of San Francisco, not far from this city, this week.

Quite a number of mine owners and others are going from San Francisco to attend the convention called by Vice Consul (?) Preston at Sacramento. The scheme proposed is, however, generally looked on unfavorably, as it is not likely to be of any real benefit to the mining interests of the country.

Thomas Rowland was arrested to-day on a charge of grand larceny, for stealing a block of brick buildings, and locked up for trial. Not being able to carry off the entire structure at once, he hauled away an iron girder weighing three tons and costing over $200. He was arrested before he could go back and get the walls and cellar.

A number of girls belonging to respectable families in the southern part of the city, from 13 to 15 years old, who had run away from home in company with dissolute young men, were arrested by the police. They swore and indulged in obscene language while on the way to the calaboose and appeared thoroughly shameless. Cases of this kind are becoming alarmingly frequent.

The Panama steamer will not be due till to-morrow.

San Francisco sold a very large number of Nevada Lottery tickets, but so far as known, not a single cash prize, great or small, has been drawn here.

A freight train on the Utah Central railroad ran off the track at Sessions last night, caused by cattle being on the track. Two oxen were killed and four cars loaded with ore smashed.

Suits against individual stockholders of the old Union copper mine, at Copperopolis, for their respective shares of $40,000, were commenced to-day on an old judgment against the company, which is insolvent.

STOCKTON, Jan. 27.—Light, drizzling rain is falling, accompanied by wind from the west. Weather all day cloudy and chilly.

UTAH.

CORINNE, Jan. 27.—A dispatch from Salt Lake of the 26th, says several mines in East Canyon, near here, have been sold to eastern capitalists within the past week. It is said rich discoveries have been made at Camp Lloyd.

NEVADA.

TRUCKEE, Jan. 27.—W. Yates, who was arrested here a few days since for supposed participation in the robbery of the mail car at Alta, attempted suicide this morning by cutting his throat. He still lives but is very low and no hopes of recovery.

Frightful Tragedy in France.

A SCENE TERRIBLE AS ANYTHING IN THE FRENCH REVOLUTION.

(From the Bordeaux (December 17) correspondence of the London Times.)

In ordinary times the trial of [illegible] tors, which has just commenced [illegible] Court of Assizes of the Dordogne, convened in extraordinary session, would have been attended by a crowd of special reporters, and have been the one topic of the day. As it is, the papers allot a large space to the proceedings, and the case will assuredly [illegible] in the next collection of causes célèbres as to make remarkable on account of its [illegible], when, under the incredible cruelties [illegible] the crime was attended. No records [illegible] narratives of showed themselves more implacably [illegible] heartless in torture than did the [illegible] the defense engaged peasants, laborers and artisans [illegible] to trial as victims [illegible] suspected by recorded could well have [illegible] of September, longed and cruel martyrdom [illegible] unfortunate [illegible] at the hands of his persecutors.

The pretext for the [illegible] dissatisfaction [illegible] and still may be so [illegible] had a hand in it. But [illegible] ted to a revival of [illegible] and hatred of their [illegible] times incited the [illegible] parts of Europe [illegible] cruelty [illegible] the [illegible] Mayor [illegible] ascended the steps leading to it, and [illegible] ruffians seized M. de Moneys, who [illegible] and giddy from the blows and ill-treatment he had received, could scarcely [illegible] and dragged him out of their hands. [illegible] sawyer, a smith and farrier, stammered [illegible] and did nothing, but behaved [illegible] the whole affair with the utmost [illegible].

The two Campots, both at one time, held M. de Moneys with one hand and beat him with the other. He continues to cry "Vive l'Empereur!" in the hope of pacifying them, but in vain. A chiffonier struck him with his hook, with such violence that a witness declared that he thought the weapon had penetrated into his head. The unfortunate young man sank down but soon recovered, and the wonder is how one described as of feeble frame could so long have borne up against the violence done him. One Brouillon, a well-to-do proprietor and member of the Municipal Council of an adjacent commune, gave him violent blows with his fist, tore out his hair, and kicked him in the back. A farrier, named Chambord, struck him with a loaded stick, crying out that he and those like him must be killed, and on being expostulated with, threatened the person who addressed him with similar treatment. The villains who tortured him continued to call him a Prussian; they accused him of having sent money to the Prussians, and declared they would burn him; but another motive for their pitiless ferocity might be gathered from the words which escaped one of them: "Ah! you have taken your coffee in fine rooms with polished floors, but we will make you take it in this stable."

If the Mayor had but opened his door the poor fellow would have been saved, for a few brave men were anxious to defend him, and succeeded in getting him into a sheep stable adjoining the Mayor's house, where he had a few minutes repose, ate some figs, and took off part of his clothes, which were torn to rags. But his murderers had not yet satisfied their rage. They threatened to set fire to the stable if he was not given up to them, and finally forced their way in and again seized him. Those who were most bound to protect him all behaved like cowards. The priest who at first had been so ready with his revolver, became alarmed at the fury of the rioters, declared that he had no intention to use his weapon, distributed wine to some fifty fellows who had forced their way into his court, and drank with them to the health of the Emperor.

An innkeeper, entreated to afford shelter to M. de Moneys, said, "No; if I do they will break everything in my house," and so kept his door barred. The poor victim's head as described to have been by this time "like a globe of blood." The three long columns of a newspaper are filled with details of his protracted agony. They dragged him from place to place, varying his tortures with fiendish ingenuity, and all the while the wretched Mayor followed the wretched murderers, girt with his tri-colored scarf, but afraid efficiously to interpose. Finally, they made a heap of fire-branches and straw, and laid him upon it. He was no longer able to speak or cry out, but he was sensible and [illegible] fully. They could wood upon [illegible] matches and made two little [illegible] have been made at Camp Lloyd. [illegible] set fire to the pile. Before the [illegible] of the torturers [illegible] upon [illegible] danced upon [illegible] himself born for [illegible] some of the [illegible] ashes with [illegible] charred object [illegible] the human trunk of a tree [illegible] two branches reddened [illegible] the corpse of the unfortunate M. de Moneys. "There," said one of the savages, [illegible] the fire, to a bystander. "Leroux! [illegible] the murder: [illegible] gentleman now like a fly or a [illegible]

[illegible] for believing that the [illegible] and that it would [illegible] others of the same [illegible] source of regret [illegible] as to make [illegible] when, under the incredible cruelties [illegible] the crime was attended. No records [illegible] narratives of showed themselves more implacably after [illegible] heartless in torture than did the [illegible] the defense engaged peasants, laborers and artisans [illegible] to trial as victims [illegible] suspected by recorded could well have [illegible] of September, longed and cruel martyrdom [illegible] unfortunate [illegible] at the hands of his persecutors.

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 28 1871

Oregon Now, and Oregon in 1860

We take it for granted that nowhere else in the United States is there the same degree of stupidity, not to say downright idiocy, as is found in the so-called Democratic journals of Oregon Many times we are called upon to take notice of the gross and stupid misrepresentations to which they are habituated but even in this class of journals we never before saw anything which could approach the amazing and most stupid absurdity of the following statements, which we take from the Oregon City Enterprise

The Oregonian appears dissatisfied with the property assessment of 1870 because it does not show a greater rate of increase over former years. The Eugene Journal is highly indignant because the increase in Lane county is not returned at a higher figure. We are somewhat astonished that these Radical editors should thus expose to their readers the fruits of the Radical Administration Do they not know that there is as much actual wealth in our State to day as there was ten years ago? Do they not know that enormous sums collected by the Internal Revenue Collectors have diminished our wealth rather than increased it? We are paying more than our annual income into the hands of Federal collectors

It is well that it is not necessary to attempt any exposure or refutation of these absurdities There is not a person in Oregon with brains enough to come in out of the rain who does not know from his own observation that the wealth of the State is three times as great as it was in 1860 The improvements made in every town, and attest it The commerce of Portland, as imports and exports, its manufacturing establishments, the improvement of the farms and towns, its towns, the increase of no greater activity in industrial pursuits, the value of property the present as compared with their cash value ten years ago, are all facts which impress themselves upon every one of us The cash value of the three million acres of land in the Willamette valley to-day double what it was in 1860 and could we bought them for a million dollars are we sure we have advanced to this day in twenty and in many local tracts have gone higher in every town and city in the State with the possible exception of Jacksonville which has advanced since 1860 from 100 per cent in value to fifty times its value in the latter places like these which both in the matter of stupidity could fail to see the progress in city taxes for the purpose of municipal improvements, an article which should stand as a rebuke to the bourbon Democrats to element, declares that expenditures now than she was ten years ago

The reason given for this increase by the Enterprise is about as absurd as it is ignorant itself No one denies that the appropriations of the amount of taxes that has been so serious drawback to the prosperity Most of the taxes have been voted for improvements which wealthy corporations have no comparatively good or material benefits have paid, or from whisky tobacco beer and the like, which nobody is compelled to use If a comparison is taken that in proportion to the value of the taxes they are called on to pay of the American people are not paying poorer every day, while wealth is concentrated in the hands of the few This is on a level with the other assertions it is the same source. The Federal taxes fall not wholly on the hands of those able to pay The wealthy classes are those who are in moderate circumstances pay nearly the whole of them. The so-called jargon that the poor who have nothing pay all the taxes, and that the more opulent pay nothing, its very well with that class which has heavy taxation to pay those who have nothing it can reach and compare wealth in the hands of those who have the taxes to pay.

As for Oregon the government is regularly administered in the interest and protection of the State much larger sum than has collected here in taxes It passes back and it has drawn from this quarter at once as much more We submit that no government does not impoverish to pay for it expend among them two or three times as much money as it raises among them by taxation

To conclude, we cannot forget that the taxes which the Oregonian its bête noire complains of but which is not connected with it has ever paid as much of as would support it for a week were brought upon the country by the direct action of that paper's party opprobrium the bank of one little bill there would be to pay as this is the encouragement which they gave to their political brethren in rebellion.

Sumner on Mexico: Destiny

Senator Sumner bitterly opposes the acquisition of San Domingo, and makes the proposition to acquire it an occasion for an indictment against President Lincoln and made in 1864 to remember because that in 1867 Mr Sumner contributed an article to the North Monthly, in which he took the manifest destiny' view of American institutions and maintained that all the surrounding countries, Canada, Mexico and the West Indies, were destined to gravitate by an irresistible impulse toward the United States, and to be absorbed by the Great Republic A Washington writer has disinterred this article and is pestering Mr Sumner with it Here is a brief extract from it

Our country wants no such ally as war Throughout peace it will have everything This is our natural course. Give us peace, and population will flow beyond all experience resources of all kinds will multiply marvellously, arts will embellish the land with immortal beauty, the name of Republic will be exalted, until every neighbor, yielding to irresistible attraction, will seek a new life in becoming a part of the great whole, and the national example will be more puissant than army or navy for the conquest of the world

A correspondent of the New York Times, in reviving a recollection of this magazine article, has caught Mr Sumner very handsomely, and he makes the case still more interesting for the Senator by showing that the acquisition of Alaska was effected by his strongest advocacy of the treaty of purchase What has moved Mr. Sumner to depart from the policy he has himself so ably set forth and sustained? It is simply one of the fits of personal spite, to which his temper has often made him subject. So much for Mr Sumner on San Domingo, whose course for once has given the Democracy much comfort and satisfaction

The House of Representatives has passed a resolution to repeal all laws requiring the acts of Congress to be published in newspapers. The sum of $10,000 is appropriated for printing the session laws in pamphlet form.

Albany is sending down by rail large quantities of wheat, oats and flax seed

Mr Fay Pays his Respects to the Herald

Not more vigorous did William Nye 'go for' that 'heathen Chinee' according to the version given by Truthful James of that affair than Senator Fay, of Jackson county goes for' the litigant organ of this city In a long letter published in the Times of Jacksonville Fay makes it scorching hot for the organ He flays and blisters and broils it We can find room only for extracts from this caustic document The writer first denies the pretentions of the Herald to be considered 'the party organ' He declares that in the State Convention last March he permitted the nomination of Mr Patterson of the Herald as State Printer because he (Patterson) was the least objectionable candidate to himself

The hostility of the Herald during the campaign to the interests of Oregon, is commented on with great severity We quote

The Herald was anything but a friend of the Democracy of this end of the State although to the Democracy of southern Oregon it owes the nomination of one of its proprietors for State Printer. Perhaps, however, the enmity which the Herald manifests toward southern Oregon, is rather a subject of congratulation than of condemnation, for it is a noticeable fact that the counties of Clackamas, Marion, Washington and Yamhill, in which it is supposed to have the largest circulation, and of course which it regards with tender eyes, all went Radical, while Multnomah, which went Democratic two years ago, and in which the Herald was supposed to be making its heaviest fight, went Radical by a larger majority than it has ever been known to cast before 1864. Perhaps the enmity of the "party organ" spared as the calamity of defeat

What follows is severer still Will the gentlemen of the Herald just read the following without wincing, if they can

It is contrary to the intelligence and dignity of a great political party, to respect the claims of a journal, which, spurred on by personal malice and revenge, assails the political and personal integrity of Democrats, but dared not defend Democratic principles Before the meeting of the last Democratic State Convention, the Herald clamored vociferously for a resolution favoring repudiation When the Convention met, the famous eighth resolution was adopted as an important element in the platform upon which the present State Printer ran as a candidate

In the first few issues after the adjournment of the Convention, the Herald exhausted itself in eulogies of the resolution, but when it was assailed from one end of the State to the other, when the entire Radical Press, opened upon it, assisted by all the radical stump orators, and the Albany Democrat in our own party, where was the "party organ" then? not a line, not a syllable of defence of the "vital eighth resolution" appeared in its columns, but it left the burden of defence to the local press, the Enterprise, Guard, Mail, Scaler and News

These papers had to sustain the battle against the press in Portland, and the entire weekly and press say nothing of the Albany Democrat, which is the only Democratic daily in the State, be same which now arrogates to itself the prerogatives of dictatorship, dared not publish a line of defence in its columns Which should be regarded as the "party organ," the pretentious daily, from which neither sense of duty to its party nor small, nor tasst, could wring a word of defense for the resolution it had previously clamored for, or the little local Democratic press, which gallantly fought for the principles the party re-affirmed!

The action of the Herald during that campaign fully justifies the conduct of the delegation from Multnomah in the State Convention, in refusing support Mr Patterson in his aspirations for the State Printeship. The gentlemen composing the delegation proved by their votes and by their speeches on the floor of the Convention, that they did indeed know the political dishonesty of the Herald

Mr Fay then goes on to recite the caucus resolutions to which Col Kelly had to subscribe to in order to secure his election He thus adverts to the course of the Herald on this matter

The Herald termed these resolutions, adopted by an almost unanimous vote of a Democratic caucus, as dictated by the newly elected Democratic corporation papers collars, which will be worn by the sample buncombe resolutions That is what they are dictated this and by the Democratic Herald Says further that the Democratic majority elected would have given unqualified satisfaction to the party at large" In another part of the attacks of the 'party organ' upon the action of the Democratic caucus, and so forth it was the spirit manifested, that Senator Baldwin of Grant fall, called upon to rebuke the insolence of the Herald, which he did effectually in two able letters to that paper. Subsequently the Herald assuming the office of Mentor to Col Kelly, deliberately suggested to that gentleman to ignore this resolution, and thus to repudiate his pledged word, violate his personal honor and enter the Senate Chamber of the United States with a character blasted and stained by the perpetration of a deliberate and willful lie But that enterprising and cheeky organ was not further than this, even, and impudently suggested to the Democratic members of the Legislature to stultify themselves by repudiating the caucus resolution The contempt with which the suggestion was treated by the Democratic Legislature, sufficiently gauges the confidence which the presumptuous "party organ" had with them For a verification of these facts, the Herald of Sept 22, 25, 26, 27, 28

The adoption by the caucus of the resolution quoted was the signal for the attack made upon me. I was charged with a desire to humiliate Col Kelly Surely if Col Kelly was humiliated at all, it was accomplished by the journal which suggested a course that would blast his personal honor.

Mr Fay promises to give the "presumptuous organ' more yet It must be conceded that, so far, he has the facts on his side As Democrats all over the State are now delineating each others characters, it seems probable that we shall soon find out all about them If they are telling the truth on each other they are rather a bad lot, take them all together.

Upon the basis of the new apportionment for members of Congress, as proposed by the House Judiciary Committee, the only States whose representation will be reduced will be New Hampshire and Vermont, each of which will lose one Representative The States of Maine, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware, Louisiana, Ohio, Florida, Oregon, West Virginia Nevada and Nebraska will each retain their present representation The States of Massachusetts, New York, Maryland, Virginia North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, California and Minnesota, will each gain one over its present representation The States of New Jersey, Pennsylvania Georgia, Texas, Wisconsin and Kansas, will each gain two The States of Missouri, Michigan, and Iowa, will each gain three, and the State of Illinois will gain four

The Penitentiary Commission has adjourned It is believed at Salem that the whole proceedings are farcical, and that they will all be upset by the Courts.

The Albany Democrat has this: "A little nig was hustled into the Albany district school last Monday, and so many white children were immediately hustled out by their indignant parents that the managers of the school saw the point and sent the "colo'd" urchin home again Negro equality don't pan out well in Albany" Yet every one of those white obsidren would play with the 'little nig" in the street, he and the little white girls would divide their apples, candy and gingerbred he and the little white boys would wrestle, run, jump, swim, lie down in the sun and go to sleep together, and their "indignant parents" would take no notice of it It is only when a colored child gets a spelling book in his hand that 'negro equality" becomes revealed in all its hideousness

The Berlin Kladderadatsch says that Gambetta has invented the latest way to express in a delicate manner the fact that an army has been well whipped, that is "The enemy appeared to develop his forces in our rear"

Portland, Present and Prospective

BY A VISITOR

[FROM THE OREGONIAN]

Having sojourned in your city for a short period, and observed with much interest its present prosperity and the agencies which are at work to secure its future progress and final destiny, permit me to give briefly the impressions left upon my mind

In speaking of the city of Portland I wish to be understood as including Portland proper and that thriving little municipality known as 'East Portland" Those who imagine that the Willamet river is always to constitute a line of demarkation between rival cities have, in my opinion, studied the growth of dense commercial communities to little purpose Homogeneity of interests will eventually unite both sides of the river in the city of Portland New Orleans has its Algiers and New York has its Brooklyn and its Jersey City, it is true, but those neighboring cities exist separately for different reasons than can act to permanently keep separate the young cities of East and West Portland Each has the same resources to depend upon for support, and like London on the Thames and Paris on the Seine, they will become one

Speaking, then, of Portland as a whole, I am firmly impressed with the opinion that it is destined to remain "the great city of the northwest" It possesses more natural advantages than any rival point and it has over twenty years the start I am aware that many, and even some of the citizens of Portland, have expressed different views on the question of "natural advantages" and time alone will decide who is correct Portland is the head of ship navigation nearest the great agricultural districts which must supply the vast exports which will soon leave your shores seeking and finding market in foreign marts It is said that other points are more easily accessible, and can be reached by vessels of heavier burthen Such arguments are fallacious. All the impediments in the way of vessels in reaching Portland will be removed and overcome with far less cost than is imagined. When the interests of trade imperatively demand it, obstacles to navigation will disappear between Portland and salt water One railroad already connects Portland with the interior of the State, and another, on the west side of the Willamet, will soon be in construction The accumulating wealth of the city will, ere long, demand still other lines of connection with contiguous Territories, and the keen eye of enterprise is not slow in discovering an opening for the investment of capital

River navigation is one of the most important natural advantages possessed by Portland The Willamet and its tributaries will forever pour the produce borne upon their bosoms into the nearest seaport, and Portland is practically that point Retaining its supremacy, as nature and enterprise has in my judgement decided it shall, Portland will continue to be the entrepot for the reception of the produce of Eastern Oregon shipped hither by the Columbia river

The western terminus of the Northern Pacific Railroad, be it located where it may, cannot permanently retard the growth of Portland, for the reason that its southern and eastern connections both by river and by rail, with its outlet to the ocean, are enough to insure its continued and lasting prosperity.

Such are the views I am constrained to hold in relation to the city of Portland Much, of course, depends upon the energy, enterprise and liberality of those most interested in the prosperity of the city If property owners fail to make use of the means at their disposal to retain trade, encourage immigration and commerce, and aid in increasing connection with the interior by railroad, then the city may fall in the rear, as it would deserve to do, and some rival point would secure the ascendency. But this is not reasonably to be anticipated, and in view of the fact permit me to repeat that the manifest destiny of Portland is, that as she is now, so she will remain, "The great city of the Northwest."

Those who visit Portland after an absence of only a few months, cannot but be impressed with the fact of its rapid growth. Buildings, massive and permanent, are found rearing their fair proportions where the primitive shanty stood, the busy hum of machinery is heard where all was silent, and improvements both public and private, the creation of only a few short months, are everywhere found The increase in the value of real estate is also astonishing, and can only be realized after being for a time absent from the city All these are indications, not to be misunderstood, proving that confidence in the permanency of Portland is daily growing stronger in the public mind

"THEIR NAME IS LEGION" may be applied to the so who die annually of Consumption. Science has of late years sensibly diminished the number, and it is gratifying to know that Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has created a potent influence in stemming this end

The First Lecture of the Course will be delivered by the REV THOS CONDON, of The Dalles, on Tuesday Evening, Jan'y 31, 1871,

At 7½ o'clock

Subject—"A Description of Three Stone Heads, The Country from which They Came and The Times in which They Lived."

The Science of Geology is assuming so much importance in its relations to historical questions especially to the Creation and the Race of Man that every one should know something of its principles and keep pace with its results

The Rev Mr Condon has given many years to the study of this interesting science, and can give more general information on the subject in a single lecture than can be gleaned by months of reading He has made the Geology of Oregon a Specialty and by his untiring efforts and at great expense, has collected a fine cabinet of specimens many of which will be on exhibition the evening of the Lecture As a speaker he is plain consecutive and comprehensive and although he is obliged to travel over a vast field within the limits assigned, yet he does not disappoint by unsatisfactory brevity or excessive generalities. Those who heard his last winter need no other inducement to come again; and to those who did not we can promise a literary feast. ja24d1f

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 28, 1871.

CITY.

SEE THE RAT-HOLE HAS WORKED.—Yesterday we met one of the men who has been robbed(?) by the "highwayman's demand" of the proprietor of the rat hole at North Portland. About a year ago he bought lots 4 and 5 in block 15, Couch's Addition, paying therefor $300 hard cash. A few days ago he placed this property in the hands of Mr. Davidson, real estate agent, for sale, and how much do our readers guess he got for it? The lots lie fair and square in the flat that Christmas overflowed by the Crystal duck pond and next June they will be from six to ten feet under water. Well, he only got $4,000 after paying the Agent's commission! When we saw him yesterday, which was just after he had received the money, he was the jolliest looking victim that ever had clapped eyes upon for a month or more; and we'll vouch for him that he will consent to be "robbed" in the same way every day in the year.

A BEASTLY CIRCULAR.—We print elsewhere a communication regarding obscene publications, which is understood to refer to a handbill put in circulation by "Dr. Loryea & Co." The language of the communication is not a particle too strong. We may add, as our own opinion, that the grand jury at its next sitting do not lose those who have uttered and circulated this beastly document, we can see little need of continuing the grand jury as a conservator of morals and an agent in checking and punishing crime against decency. The handbill referred to is deficient in one particular. The fitness of things requires that it should have closed with something like this, viz.: "Also, agents for the Scorpion, a copy of which will enclose every box of the preparation herein described. Each person purchasing six boxes will be entitled to receive that journal regularly." Such an announcement at the end of the circular would have greatly improved the tone and materially sweetened the morals of the rest of the document.

ESCAPE OF PRISONERS.—Yesterday the sheriff of Cowlitz county, Mr. Pullman, with a deputy, started to bring a couple of prisoners up the river, who had been committed for larceny at Kalamo. The name of one of the prisoners was Barney, and the other we did not learn. When the steamer was a short distance below Kalama Barney jumped overboard and swam ashore. He probably had Kalama on the brain. At all events he landed near that now famed city and may be keeping a hotel there for all the sheriff knows to the contrary. The other prisoner, it seems, had a preference for St. Helens as a good place to locate, and accordingly he slid quietly on board the boat till it landed at Portland, when he coolly walked ashore, without so much as a courteous "good-bye" to the disgusted sheriff and deputy. The officers, we are told, refuse to be comforted.

THAT'S STAND A JOKE.—The Most Rev. F. N. Blanchet, Archbishop of Oregon, has issued a letter to the faithful, denouncing Harper's Monthly as "the vile caricatures of his weekly journal of miserable civilization." The Sentinel follows suit by calling "all Catholics, as well as right-minded and decent Protestants," against Harper's Weekly, and pronounces it "equal to any tawdry paper in the country in its caricatures and cuts." The Sentinel seems to be that Harper's has, by caricature, poked fun at the pretensions of the Pope, and, if so, these people are excessively thin-skinned and have a heart as harmless a satire. But most people who have for years laughed at Harper's cartoons, will be surprised to learn that the paper is anything at all like a "beastly" publication.

A PRESUMPTUOUS [illegible] "there are a many who called upon [illegible] to respond to the judicial [illegible] of, "guilty or not guilty, that the authorities have concluded to erect a platform for the convenience of [illegible] public speakers. Then a man shall hereafter have occasion to make a plea at the bar he will be mounted on a very imposing platform from which he can fully air his lessons to survey his auditory. The Chief has furnished the platform with seats for about a dozen front seats chairs, reserved for ladies. There is another good purpose which will be answered by the new arrangement—the prisoners, being elevated, can be easily distinguished from the lawyers and officers of the court.

SALEM ENTERPRISE AT ALBANY.—We learn that an establishment is about to be started at Albany which will employ, in one, several valuable industries. The movers in it are Messrs. Knight and Metcalf. They are erecting a building two and a-half stories high, in which they propose to put machinery for the manufacture of linseed oil, together with complete fixtures for turning out soap, candles and oil in large quantities. The necessary machinery has already been ordered, and will cost perhaps $10,000. The establishment will be very handily located for carrying on the business profitably, and every part of it will be conducted on an extensive scale.

THE CADETS.—FIRST ANNUAL BALL.—The military organization in this city, called the Portland Cadets under Capt. Greffoz, will give their first annual ball at the Washington Guard's Armory, on Thursday evening, February 9th, proximo. Tickets $1 50; proceeds to be applied to the purchase of uniform for the company.

ORGANIZATION.—The Sentinel says: "We are also duly informed that Catholics will be appointed to the Indian agencies at the Umatilla, Warm Springs and Yamhill Reservations. Mr. John A. Starns, some time since nominated by the President to be Indian Agent at Lapwai, has been changed to that of Umatilla."

REMOVAL.—The City Council will hold their next meeting in the new chamber in Corbett's building, on First street. The fixtures, books and papers, etc., of the old chamber and Auditor's office will be removed to the new quarters to-day. The new chamber and offices will be vastly more pleasant than the old place.

HELD TO ANSWER.—A man named Thos. Gold was had a preliminary examination before Judge [illegible] day, for an [illegible] assault upon [illegible] with a dangerous weapon (a slungshot), and was held to answer. The prisoner being no bail, was committed to the county jail.

THE PORTLAND ACADEMY.—The present term of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary will close with a prize exhibition, Saturday evening, February 11th, and the next term will commence on Monday, February 13th. The prospects for the next term are reported favorable.

BUSINESS NOTICE.—Dean & Brother are offering for sale some desirable property in this city and suburbs and East Portland, besides some non-resident property. They also offer to exchange lands in the Western States for lands in Oregon.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—The stockholders of the East Portland Spring Water Co. have elected as Directors, James B. Stephens, A. M. Loryea and E. W. Webber. James B. Stephens is President of the Board and E. Joseph, Secretary.

FESTIVAL DAY.—The Catholic church will celebrate next Thursday, Feb. 2d, the feast of "Candlemas Day or the Purification of the Blessed Virgin.

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE FINE THEATER.—The lively and dashing Spanish comedy of "The Barrack-Room" and the very amusing farce of "The Jealous Wife," constituted the bill presented last night to a good house. The company seems to have got upon its mettle and everything produced lately has been done in a style of superior excellence. At the matinee this afternoon "Faint Heart never won fair lady" and the farce of "The Married Bachelor" will be produced. The bill for this evening will be the nautical drama of "Ben Bolt" and the laughable burletta of "Lend me Five Shillings."

VIEUXTEMPS'S BENEFIT.—The audience at Philharmonic Hall last evening, was not a large one, but it was an intelligent and appreciative one, and the entertainment afforded by the Vieuxtemps brothers was of a character to gratify the lovers of [illegible]. Many of this pi[illegible] afflicted suffering sufferers, and the performers certainly have no occasion to complain of the reception given by a [illegible] audience to the entire entertainment. The brothers will give an entertainment for children at 2 o'clock to-day, and we are informed that arrangements have been made by which two or three hundred children, from the various schools of the city will attend, by schools. Ladies desiring to attend should purchase their tickets early, at Shanahan's Music and Art Gallery.

OBSCENE PUBLICATIONS.

LOCAL EDITOR OREGONIAN:

A day or two ago you indulged in some wholesome strictures on the conduct of those engaged in distributing libidinous publications broadcast throughout our city, and hinted that if there was any law to check such action it ought immediately to receive the attention of the conservators of order and good morals. The remarks were made concerning such prurient sheets as the Masceppa and Days Doings, but they may be applied with even greater force to certain printed handbills distributed through town this morning, and having appended to them names well known in this community. The disgusting nature of these handbills precludes much criticism upon their contents; suffice it to say, that like the skunk, they are too noisome to approach or handle. If they correctly set forth the virtues (?) of this drug they advertise, it would not be long before violated nature would exhibit her wrong in the sickly and degenerated offspring of those who trample on her laws; if not truly stated, they furnish a deceptive argument for lust to address to those weak creatures whom the fear of exposed shame, not of the loss of virtue, has hitherto preserved from the arts of the libertine. If shame for themselves, or the contempt of right thinking people here, will not prevent a repetition by these "advertisers" of their insults to decency, let a wholesome fear of our statutes be impressed on their minds through the efforts of our public prosecutors. If such printed papers do not manifestly tend to the corruption of the morals of youth, we are much mistaken, and if they do they are clearly within the inhibition on page 560, section 637 of the Oregon Code, which section we commend to the consideration of whomsoever it may concern.

PATERFAMILIAS.

PORTLAND, Jan. 27, 1870.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

[From the Advocate.]

Rev. A. F. Waller, agent of the Wallamet University, will preach at Milwaukie to-morrow morning and evening.

Rev. Hugh Caldwell, of Hillsboro writes: "Our second quarterly meeting commenced at Forest Grove on the 7th inst., and has been protracted with great profit. Up to this date, Jan. 21st, as many as forty have been up at the altar for prayers, and still they come."

Rev. W. A. Tenney, with his family, says the Pacific, left on the last steamer for Astoria, Oregon, to take charge of the Congregational church in that place as pastor. In the absence of any pastor, but in preparation for their new pastor's arrival, this church has paid up its debt of $1,500. We congratulate Bro. Tenney on a welcome of that sort.

We are glad to learn that Rev. A. Laubach, of the Iowa Conference, has been transferred by Bishop Ames to the Oregon Conference, and will be stationed at Port Townsend, Washington Territory. We knew Bro. Laubach years ago as a clear-headed, sound-hearted and laborious servant of God. The following is the testimony of his worth by his Presiding Elder, Rev. E. H. Waring, of Fairfield, Iowa: "Bro. Laubach is one of our most efficient pastors, a good preacher and a zealous and indefatigable worker. Last year he took between two and three hundred into the church." Bro. Laubach will probably be at his new post of duty early in the spring, accompanied by his wife and four children.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Catholic Sentinel has completed its first volume of fifty-two numbers.

The steamship Idaho, Capt. Gregory, will sail at 3 P. M. to-day for San Francisco.

There was a large and select party at No. 1's engine house Thursday evening—one of the most pleasant affairs of the season.

East Portland city taxes must be paid by the first of February, or costs will be added.

Capt. W. C. Walker is superintendent for the contractor of the work on the Kalama section of the North Pacific Railroad.

A large lot of bacon put up in superior style, will be shipped to San Francisco by the steamer Idaho.

A project is on foot to place one of the P. T. Co's boats on the Santiam river to run between Jefferson and Lebanon.

GOV. SALOMON'S LECTURE.—The net proceeds of Gov. Salomon's lecture in aid of the German Patriotic Fund, amounted to $39 25, which was very fair considering the storm that raged the whole evening, and the fact that ladies were not charged.

FRESH SMELT can be had at Quinn's Fish Market

The best quality of Family Groceries of all kinds. Fruits of the season and Dried Fruit in variety. Fresh Vegetables and Butter and Eggs. Nuts, Candies and Pop Corn. Choice Salmon Belies and Halibut Fins. Western Cranberries and a thousand other things at C. M. MARTIN'S.

MRS. GATES AND MRS. JAMES.—Mrs. Gates—Good morning Mrs. James. How well you are looking; far better than when I saw you last.

Mrs. James—Oh, yes; I am much better than I have been for a long time, and am now on my way for more of my favorite medicine—PLANTATION BITTERS. One bottle of it is worth all the doctors in the world. No more doctors for me.

Mrs. Gates—Nearly every one speaks well of PLANTATION BITTERS, and I have a mind to try it myself. The fact is, I have no appetite, strength or energy for anything. Mary and Lizzie are in the same way, and lounge about the house all day long, good for nothing.

Mrs. Gates—My word for it, Mrs. Gates, just let them try PLANTATION BITTERS moderately three times a day, and you will see a wonderful improvement.

SEA MOSS FARINE from pure Irish Moss, for Blanc Manges, Puddings, Custards, Creams, &c., &c. The cheapest, healthiest and most delicious food in the world.

SOZODONT.—All dentrifices had their drawbacks, until the substitute back of the Soap Tree was brought from the Chilian Valleys, to perfect the fragrant Sozodont, the most wholesome, reliable and delightful article for the teeth that a brush was ever dipped into.

"SPALDING'S GLUE," always up to the sticking point.

A Washington Scandal.

A DRUNKEN MEMBER OF CONGRESS BRUTALLY BEATS HIS WIFE.

A Washington correspondent makes public a disgraceful affair, which he says occurred at Willard's Hotel, recently. The story as it is given is, that Richard J. Halderman, Democratic member of Congress from the York (Pa.) District, has been on a grand debauch for some time; and that about midnight on Wednesday last, the wife of a Senator, whose husband was attending the night session on the San Domingo resolution, was aroused by loud and infamous language in an adjoining room, addressed to the wife of Halderman by that Representative; and then, hearing blows, the Senator's wife rang for help. Soon the proprietor and two or three servants were brought to the hall, and two members of Congress were roused from their rooms by the then loud shrieks of a female voice, mingled with the loud exclamation of "Don't, Rich—don't don't!" The hotel proprietor Sykes, at once hammered at the door and warned Halderman that unless the latter ceased his violence, he must spend the night in a police station. He stammered out a mandlin "Yes," and his wife not appealing to those who had by that time arrived in the hall, for protection, they did not feel warranted in forcing the door open and taking her away.

A servant was then stationed in the hall to prevent trouble, and at half past one and four A. M. had to interfere to frighten Halderman from further violence. On the next morning Mrs. Halderman, a lady of refinement and spotless character, the daughter of Senator Cameron, said that her husband had twice knocked her down, and had kicked and mocked and bruised her. Her face was shockingly bruised; both eyes were blacked, and other marks of his brutality were on her person.

It was related that several days before this he appeared on the floor of the House drunk when he arose, holding on to his desk, and after rapping of the Speaker's gavel with great force, he was left standing until his friends got him off to his room. After this his wife clung to him and tried to get him sobered down; and after the hearing, when the hotel proprietor ordered Halderman away and said he must stay, who still went with her, promising with him to Now Halderman has promised to try and reform him.

Much depends upon his next appearance in the House in an intoxicated condition he will be summarily expelled. Besides this, the proprietor of the hotel, when the heard of his [illegible] seriously contemplated giving him a [illegible] bar and feathers and [illegible] Other He was saved from this well-[illegible] most only by the interference of friends and a few constabled guests.

Rather Inelegant.—An amusing incident is related to have occurred on the steamer Dexter on her last trip down the river. Just below Vicksburg, a fine [illegible] on board en route for Texas. During the afternoon the latter families concluded he would enjoy the luxury of a good shave, shampooing, etc., and for this purpose invited to the [illegible] artist on the steamer. The luxury was speedily supplied him, and, at his request, hair eyebrows and whiskers were converted from a dark red to a raven blackness by the magic of the artist's dye. The fair lady was highly pleased at the result of surprise to his wife at the transformation and married to behold the prize. Imagine his indignation when he was called upon to forfeit $10. He swore he would never pay it, and hurried to his state room to muster his defensive armament. But he was met at the door by a file of [illegible] outraged by the intrusion of strangers, he was disarmed and admittance [illegible] to his wife. He attempted explain. A crowd gathered around and the mirth became general, and in its perplexity the Hoosier exclaimed: "Skillie look at my feet!"

One chance at the genial appendages assured her "Yes, John," she said "I know your feet. They can come in but keep out of my sight." —New Orleans Picayune.

An incident of this sort must be interesting to the pew [illegible] who was thrown [illegible] The Jacksonville Herald says one of the coaches of the Milwaukee & St. Paul Road was a sweet little pratt [illegible] its mother's arms. To please the little [illegible] let it take her portmonnaie to the [illegible] and exhausted its curiosity in pursuing [illegible] front of the coach. The latter [illegible] handed to the conductor. He [illegible] a third of a mile and [illegible] purse was [illegible]

A unique recommendation given by [illegible] gyman for a friend who desired [illegible] as follows: "He is perfectly human and has made some of the silliest mistakes that ever were made, showing in their happening and in their correcting a hopeful, conscious, and growing manhood."

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, Dregon, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in proceedings and upon such terms as Congress, if they so decree, by [illegible] abandonment of their claims in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land he now occupies and settle on the land purchased from the Company, and receive a deed for the same without the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect.
